Holly was so excited to see two sleds among the gifts she received from the Love your Neighbor Holiday Program at Neighbors Inc. last year. She said that her kids have been sliding down the hill in the backyard on their snowpants, and they will be thrilled to have real sleds!

Neighbors Inc. needs your help to provide hundreds of families like Holly's with a warm and joyous Christmas this year. Please consider adopting a family—you get to shop for specific children or seniors and find the perfect gifts for them. Or, donate unwrapped, new clothing and toys! For more info, please email holiday@neighborsmn.org or call 651-306-2152.

Tim is fourteen years old, and loves to run. He received new running gear from the family who adopted him through the Love Your Neighbor Holiday Program at Neighbors Inc. last Christmas. I ran into his mom a few weeks after Christmas and she said he is so grateful for the gear. When he first tried on the running pants, he said they were too heavy. Like a typical mom, she told him to try them out and see. He went running on the icy January streets and slipped and fell twice. When he got home he said, "Those pants saved my life!"

Tim and his mom (and hundreds of other kids and seniors) are counting on you to help them have a merry Christmas this year. Maybe the pants you donate could save the life, or at least the backside, of a stubborn-but-ultimately-very-grateful teenager! Please consider adopting a family—you get to shop for specific children or seniors and find the perfect gifts for them. Or, donate unwrapped, new clothing and toys! For more info, please email holiday@neighborsmn.org or call 651-306-2152.

When Jennifer picked up her gifts from Neighbors last year, she was so grateful. She said that she'd been struggling with work lately, and her son asked her "Are we gonna have a Christmas this year?" She told him that she would try, but she really didn't know how she was going to do it. Then she heard about the Holiday Program at Neighbors. She is so grateful for the gifts, and so excited to be able to give her son the Christmas he didn't think they'd be able to have.

James came in to Neighbors a few weeks after Christmas because he had something he wanted to show me. It was a video of his family Christmas. James takes care of his young granddaughter, Patty. In the video, James is wearing a Santa outfit, and his granddaughter is opening up each gift. The gifts all came from a kind family that had “adopted” James and Patty through the Neighbors Holiday Program. James had not “peeked” at what she would be getting, and he was just as excited and grateful to see what was in each package as Patty was. Even though the family who adopted them had never met them, they got just the right gifts. It was so fun to see the video and share in their Christmas joy.

Please consider adopting a family like James and Patty—you get to shop for specific children or seniors and find the perfect gifts for them. Or, donate unwrapped, new clothing and toys! For more info, please email holiday@neighborsmn.org or call 651-306-2152.
